TERMS

OUR PRICES are based upon cash with order. No charge for packing. We will book advance orders when one-fourth cash accompanies the order, balance to be paid before stock is shipped. In case of a shortage on certain items, those orders that are accompanied by a full remittance receive preference.

SHIPPING: All goods travel at purchaser's risk and expense. We choose best way of transit, unless otherwise requested. Certificate of state inspection goes with every shipment.

RESPONSIBILITY: If any stock purchased from us proves untrue to name, we agree, upon proper proof, to replace such stock, but we shall in no case be liable to replace a greater part than the stock originally received.

PRICES in this bargain list hold good only as long as stock is on hand, and are subject to being changed when stock or collections become exhausted.

CLAIMS: Though we exercise utmost care in executing your orders, we are all human and in the rush of the season a mistake could occur. In case of a shortage, claims must be made within 10 days after the goods are received. Should stock arrive in a damaged condition, claim should be immediately made with the responsible transit agency.

REMITTANCE may be made by post office money order, express money order, draft or registered letter. Checks may cause a few days delay for investigation.

What Is The Secret ?

Many friends have asked us: "How is it possible that you can offer such fine, healthy, true-to-name stock at such a low price?" Well, when we look through the average run of nursery stock catalogs, we must admit that there is a tremendous difference in prices, which justifies us to call our list an outstanding bargain list.

WHAT CAUSED US TO SELL OUR STOCK AT SUCH BIG BARGAIN PRICES? It is our business conception which tells us that people have the right to look for bargains during this time of curtailed income, and that it is our duty to sell our stock at bargain prices; and that for two reasons. First, it will enable our gardening friends to continue their plantings, especially now, with more time for home improvements; and secondly, it will help ourselves to keep busy with production and will help stimulate business at large. We have always thought it better to have many orders at small individual profits, than only a few orders at a high price that must pay all expenses.

WHAT HELPED US TO PRODUCE STOCK AT SO LOW A COST THAT WE CAN OFFER IT AT SUCH A BARGAIN? To begin with, the proprietor of the ROSEBUD NURSERIES had the good fortune to be born in Holland, the country where everybody loves and grows flowers and plants. There, as a boy he worked in some good nurseries, with a large variety of ornamental stock grown, where he learned to know hundreds of varieties of plants and the best methods of their propagation. Later on, as a young man he graduated with two years of study from the Holland State College for Nurserymen and Landscape Architects, where his knowledge was intensified and broadened, and his capacities were enlarged. Then he worked in several good nurseries in America, where he acquainted himself with new methods of propagation, cultivation, of which he has adopted those that are superior for this country over the methods he learned in Holland. In his own nurseries, the ROSEBUD NURSERIES, he is retaining the thrifty methods of propagation of his training in Holland, and combining them with American methods that are more expedient in other respects. With the privilege of a wide experience and broadened knowledge from both Holland and American sources, the proprietor of the ROSEBUD NURSERIES is working under a favorable combination which helps him to produce his stock with a thrift that enables him to sell at such bargain prices.

Furthermore, the proprietor of the ROSEBUD NURSERIES feels himself gratefully obliged to the Department of Agriculture for the courteous aid received in the regular inspection of his nursery stock by a duly appointed inspector and have it certified as free from dangerous insect pests and plant diseases.

Our patrons, therefore, may be fully assured that in ordering their stock from the ROSEBUD NURSERIES they are taking advantage of our wide experience in growing, which stands for the low price they are paying for our stock; our extensive knowledge of varieties, which insures the stock sent out to be true to name. Furthermore, stock from the ROSEBUD NURSERIES is government inspected, free from dangerous insect pests and plant diseases.

People ordering from the ROSEBUD NURSERIES are getting quality stock, true to name, at bargain prices.
